Please visit the supplier website on the full cancellation policy as well as the terms and conditions***

To view the cancellation policy for Oceania Cruises you are going to go to the Oceania Cruises website through the secondary supplier list on the Boardwalk website. Once you log into the site you will scroll down to the bottom of the page and click “legal”. This will take you to a full list of legal information for the cruise line. You will select “terms and conditions” and then find the cancellation policy within the terms and conditions.

Any cancellation penalties will depend on the category booked and how far in advance the reservation was cancelled. It will also depend on if an air component was combined with the cruise fare. Group cancellation policies may differ. Refer to the group contract for the cancellation policies.
