2. Next you will want to ensure that your correct contact number is under phone number. Then you will select if you have an active booking or not. To book the appointment you will want to adjust to your time zone, then select "check availability". When you click this, it will auto-populate on the second line, a date and time that the next appointment is available. If that date and time works for you then you will click "submit". A member from Explora Journeys will contact you at that date and time.

NOTE: If you have call blocking on, you will need to remove it for them to get through you. It's best practice to enter the appointment in your calendar as you make it.**
